From the President

Hello Dressage Enthusiast!

This is the time of year to be enthused! It is time to ride! So get out and get riding!

We are so pleased to have had an excellent turnout for the March Show Camp in Shawnee. Thank you to all the participants who joined us for this event. And thanks also to all the volunteers who helped make the camp run well. Thank you to Betsy Hsu for lending her help and truck when we were in a pinch to get the arena trailer to Shawnee. Thank you to many others as well for the many hours of hard work it took to put this project together. Fortunately the Board members of ODS had help from a group of students from Oklahoma State University learning how to run the camp as a show so they will be ready to help with the ODS May Recognized show. They were a great help and fun group. They even hand scrubbed both of the dressage courts! They are sparkling clean! How nice! The students learned how to do almost everything from secretarial and announcing to set up and take down the arenas. They are making plans now for the May show. The Expo center was so kind to allow them to camp out in the RV parking area to save on expenses. The trailer and arena will be able to be stored securely indoors at the Shawnee Expo until the may show and if all goes well, even longer.

Friday evening The Horse of Course put on a fashion show, and Beth Haist also spoke about current regulations concerning dress and equipment for the show ring. We went on to discussions about show etiquette, proper show practices, rules, entry forms, etc.

The OSU Dressage Team had its début, and its members really grew and developed their skills and friendships. They all came through like champions! Some of them came through as models as well. Beth had them decked out in the latest and greatest from Germany for the fashion show! Woo HOO!

We had a fabulous buffet meal and then all went back to the stable for braiding. From the scruffy to the smooth, the horses all looked like professionals when the riders were done. Well, kind of. (Some of us still need some practice!)

Saturday and Sunday were tremendous learning opportunities for new riders and new horses. The judges, Kaye Kamish and Charlotte Kin, were able to score each ride and then immediately discuss with each rider what he/she needs to do to make the test better. Both of the judges commented that they loved the format and saw real improvement in the riders from one test to the next. Many juniors, new riders, and experienced riders from as far away as Joplin and Dallas attended the event and really enjoyed themselves.

The board had a regular meeting at a nearby Mexican restaurant. We discussed several things including the May show, advertising, sponsorships, the annual awards, the fall symposium, and the plan for next year. The entire board plus guests participated. Unfortunately Amanda Edwards had to resign due to health problems.

Anne Kuhns and Robin plan to visit next week about forming a unified effort to gain sponsors and advertising for the spring and fall ODS/GCC shows.

North Central Chapter is working on the Winter AGM for next year and should have a date by the next newsletter. Watch and mark your calendars! The Summer General meeting has yet to have a host. We hope a chapter will volunteer by the May show.

The directory will be out soon. We were waiting until after this meeting to make sure we had all the information correctly included.

We've gotten good feedback on the new ODS newsletter format and hope that you are enjoying all the information it contains. We need more advertisements in the newsletter to be able to continue to produce it monthly. Please send your ads to the editor by the 15th of each month. Non-business classified ads for members are free.

Remember your horse must be registered with ODS, and you have to be a member before you collect any scores towards year end awards. Check the website for registration of horses.

The next board meeting will be at the same restaurant (Amigo's) at 6pm sat April 30 after the show. Please come!

Okay, that is all the news that is the news, from Lake Oklahoma, where the riders are strong and the horses are good looking!

Q: "How often and with what, do I need to vaccinate my show horse, my backyard horse, my broodmares, and my babies?"

A: There are many vaccinations available although not all are necessary. Vaccinations do not guarantee that your horse will not contract the disease, but will reduce the risk of infection or decrease the severity of the disease. I will briefly discuss the major diseases for which we have vaccinations for, followed by a chart of vaccination recommendations (a modified version of the AAEP guidelines for vaccination). This is a brief overview please consult your veterinarian for further information and advice on your horse.

At a minimum all horses should at least be vaccinated for two diseases: tetanus and rabies.

Tetanus usually infects horses through a broken skin barrier such as trauma or surgery. All horses are exposed to tetanus in their environment, and the disease is often fatal.

Rabies infection occurs when an infected animal bites your horse. Rabies can be transmitted to other animals and people, there is no cure, and it is always fatal in horses.

West Nile virus causes neurologic disease that can vary from mild almost inapparent signs to severe fatal disease. Exposure to the disease changes yearly depending on the mosquito population and other hosts for the disease. It is recommended that all horses be vaccinated for West Nile virus. Due to the length of the mosquito season in Oklahoma I recommend vaccinating horses in the spring and again in the late summer.

Equine Influenza is a highly contagious virus that causes respiratory disease in horses. Young horses and those that are that go to shows or are exposed to horses that have been to show are most susceptible. Equine herpes virus 1 and 4 (EHV-1 and EHV-4) or rhinopneumonitis causes respiratory disease, neurologic disease, and abortions or birth of neurologic foals.

Equine Encephalomyelitis (EEE, WEE, and VEE) or sleeping sickness is transmitted by mosquitos and causes varying neurologic signs in horses that can often be fatal.

Streptococcus equi causes strangles, a highly infections disease that causes respiratory infection and swollen infected lymph nodes. The bacteria can spread to other lymph nodes in the body (bastard strangles). It is not recommended to routinely vaccinate horses for strangles due to side effects of the vaccination.

Vaccinations for Potomac Horse Fever, Botulism, Equine Viral Arteritis, Anthrax, and Equine Protozoal Myelitis exist, although these are not routinely recommended for horses in Oklahoma.

Live" USDF Year-End Award Rankings Available on USDF Web

Do you want to know where you currently rank in the various USDF year-end award programs? Now you can check on the USDF Web site's "2005 Preliminary Award Standings" at www.usdf.org/programs/awards/2005/index.asp.

This newest Web site service for competing USDF members will help track their progress toward year-end awards throughout the year. Median scores and rankings will be available weekly as the results from competitions are entered into the USDF database. Members can view overall rankings as the season progresses, which will allow them to know where they stand throughout the year, rather than having to wait until the end of the season. Any discrepancies can be addressed on an on-going basis throughout the year, and prior to the deadline of October 15, 2005. USDF recommends that competitors access their score checks at www.usdf.org/scorecheck/scorecheck.asp to verify that the shows where they have received eligible scores have been entered, and then contact USDF Competitions Department staff if they have questions. For more information on this new Web capability, please contact Krystina Firth at (859) 271-7895 or kfirth@usdf.org.

ODS Year End Awards Update

At the AGM held February 26, 2005, in Stillwater, the membership voted to modify the 2005 ODS Year End Awards program by changing the awards year to run January 1 through December 31. Please note this change in this year's award structure. Details are forthcoming in the ODS Directory. Also as Amanda Edwards has resigned from the ODS Board, she will no longer be handling the awards. The new Awards Committee Coordinator will be announced soon. For questions, please contact Robin Hessel, ODS President, prez@oklahomadressage.org

GCC News

The March GCC show was cancelled due to inclement weather, so we are having the April show double judged. Both Kay Kamish and Lee Ann Alf will judge. Competitors can opt to have each test (ride) scored once or twice. Each score will qualify for year end awards.

The Shadbelly Social Club is May 7. We will have five educational sessions. Sherry Guess is presenting unmounted exercises. Drew Callahan will teach us about starting a young horse by long lining. Roberta Clark will give geometry lessons. Susan Lang will do a scribing presentation. And we'll also have show etiquette information. Members and non-members are welcome. Please check our April newsletter or website (www.GreenCuntryDressage.org) for registration.

Sponsorship Opportunities for May ODS 2005 Show

Plan now to sponsor a class at the May Oklahoma Dressage Society 2005 Show. For the low fee of only $30 per class you will be able to sponsor classes on both days of the May spring shows I and II. Your business or name will be announced before and after the class as well as included on the sponsor roster circulated throughout the show. Be generous: sponsor an entire level for only $120. Your support will be greatly appreciated. This is also a great opportunity to have direct advertising options for the low fee of $25. Just send flyers or business cards advertising your product or service and we will include them in the rider packets. These packets are given to each rider in the show and include all the important information they need to participate in the show. Your advertisement will be put directly into the hands of potential customers. The number of customers we can accommodate is limited so please send your information by April 15 to Deb Bailey. First come, first serve. You should send at least 60 advertisements ready for the packets. Outdoor vendor space at the show is available and free but pre-approval is required.

Your support of dressage is very important to the success of the ODS show and the future of our horse breeders in Oklahoma. Contact us about these advertising opportunities as soon as possible. They are going fast! Share this email with your friends and business associates. Dressage is good for every person and every horse!

See www.showsecretary.com for more information on our USDF Oklahoma Dressage Society Dressage Show April 30, May 1 at the Shawnee Expo Center. For sponsorship opportunities contact Deb Bailey at flashy2bar@hotmail.com or call 1-405-880-5007.

USDF Announces Changes to Hall of Fame Criteria and Deadline Reminder for 2005 Hall of Fame and Lifetime Achievement Award Nominations

USDF Hall of Fame Award-Improved Criteria

At the 2004 United States Dressage Federation (USDF) Annual Convention, the Board of Governors approved the Historical Committee's revised criteria for Hall of Fame nominations for people and horses. The newly revised criteria will allow for broader recognition of the accomplishments and successes of those people and horses that have positively influenced the sport of dressage in the U.S.

Persons who will be considered for induction into the USDF Hall of Fame are those who have made outstanding contributions to the growth, development, quality, popularity, and appreciation of the sport of dressage in the United States. Past inductees into the USDF Hall of Fame are: Lowell Boomer (1996), Chuck Grant (1997), Colonel Bengt Ljungquist (1998), Violet Hopkins (1998), Colonel Donald W. Thackeray (1998), Lt. Col. Hans Moeller (2000), Captain John Fritz (2000), Jessica Newberry Ranshousen (2001), Major General Guy V. Henry, Jr. (2001), Ivan Bezugloff, Jr. (2002), Kyra Downton (2002), Colonel Hiram Tuttle (2002), Major Anders Lindgren (2003), Margarita Serrell (2003), Karl Mikolka (2003), Captain Andrew de Szinay (2004), and Dr. Max Gahwyler (2004).

Horses to be considered are those who have contributed to excellence in dressage through their performance records in the dressage arena or their breeding records, or have served as ambassadors of the sport. Horses previously inducted into the Hall of Fame are: Keen (1997), Gifted (1997), and Graf George (2000).

USDF Lifetime Achievement Award

Individuals who will be considered for the USDF Lifetime Achievement Award are those who have demonstrated a lifelong dedication to USDF as a volunteer through leadership, or the development of programs and projects, and that have made outstanding contributions to USDF's mission. Previous recipients of the Lifetime Achievement Award are: Lazelle Knocke (2002), Elizabeth Searle (2002), Peter Lert (2003), Marianne Ludwig (2003), and Kay Meredith (2004).

Nomination Deadline:

The deadline to nominate candidates for the 2005 USDF Hall of Fame and Lifetime Achievement Award is APRIL 29, 2005. Nominations received after this date may not be considered until 2006.

Specific nomination criteria for both awards, as well as the nomination forms, can be found online at www.usdf.org, or by contacting Kim Sodt in the USDF office at (859) 271-7876 or ksodt@usdf.org.

Founded in 1973, the United States Dressage Federation is a nonprofit membership organization dedicated to education, the recognition of achievement, and the promotion of the sport of dressage. For more information about USDF membership or programs, visit www.usdf.org, or e-mail usdressage@usdf.org, or call (859) 971-2277.
